The purposes and legal basis for processing your personal information

Processing is necessary for the performance of your contract with PPS and for the issue and operation of Cards and/or Accounts and is necessary for compliance with legal obligations applicable to PPS such as financial crime prevention. PPS may use your personal information for marketing purposes and may share your information with third parties, including Mastercard and Programme Managers and Card distributors, for marketing purposes.

Financial crime prevention

PPS will use your personal information to help decide if your accounts may be being used for fraud or money-laundering. We may detect that an account is being used in ways that fraudsters work or we may notice that an account is being used in a way that is unusual. If we think there is a risk of fraud, we may stop activity on the accounts or refuse access to them. In the United Kingdom only, we might also check and share your information with fraud prevention agencies. If fraud is identified or suspected, these agencies may keep a record of that information and we may refuse to provide any services. Law enforcement agencies may access and use this information.
